Smith's Video Guides

Having spent the best part of a decade teaching himself the necessary skills to create a handmade pocket watch – with a little help from of George Daniels' Watchmaking, Roger Smith has decided to add a visual aspect to the book as an educational tool for current and future students of English horology. Smith decided that the most accessible way to do this was via a video channel on YouTube, which can now be found at www.youtube.com/user/rwsmithwatches.

Currently there are five playlists entitled An Introduction, Watches, Series 2 Movement, Watchmaking Techniques – Finishing a Set of Hands and General information.
